GORHAM 35-29Vail and McNally Lead Scoring—Gould Seconds in Romp 52-13Gould Academy won its 14th game last Monday when they defeated Gorham, N. H., 35-29. Gould started strong, leading 15-5 at the quarter, and 26-14 at the half. The first five baskets were made one each by the starting five, which showed the variability of the attack.In the third period Gorham came back strong, running up a 10-0 score in that period, leaving the total 20-24. The Blue and Gold sensed a real threat, and after a very indifferent third quarter, began playing basketball again.Vail, Browne, and McNally each came through with a timely basket in this period to keep Gould out in front. Simonds starred for the visitors.

WEST PARIS

There will be a union temperance meeting in memory of Neal Dow at 7 o'clock Sunday evening, March 19th, in the Methodist chapel. The local pastors will be the speakers. The Bates Literary Club met with Rev. Eleanor B. Forbes Friday afternoon with a large attendance. Book reviews were given by Mrs. H. L. Patch and Mrs. D. A. Grover. The next meeting on March 24 will be held with Mrs. Frank P. Knight, Jr.

Rev. Eleanor B. Forbes gave the first of a series of Lenten sermons on Sunday, March 5. A chorus of young people, with Elnora Curtis, soloist, furnished music. The primary Sunday School followed the usual monthly custom when they marched to the main auditorium at the Sunday School session, and sang songs and recited Scripture, and Junior Farr sang a solo.

Mrs. Lynn L. Rowe remains very ill.

Mrs. Sybil B. Bean

Funeral services for Mrs. Sybil B. (Swan) Bean were held Thursday, March 9, at the Methodist church. Rev. A. E. Maxwell was the officiating clergyman. Mrs. Bean was the daughter of Oliver H. and Lola (Buck) Swan, and was born in Paris, Dec. 29, 1856. She married Charles H. Bean March 29, 1876, at Albany. She is survived by a son, Lemuel Bean of Portland, and a daughter, Mrs. Grace McIntyre, of Portland, with whom Mrs. Bean lived; three sisters, Mrs. Cora Tubbs of Warner, Florida, Miss Maud Swan of Paris, Mrs. Ella P. Day of West Paris; one brother, Henry Swan of Bryant Pond; thirty-five nieces and nephews, sixteen grand-nieces and nephews, eleven great-nieces and nephews. The burial was in the family lot in West Paris cemetery.

Mrs. Annie McCloud

Funeral services for Mrs. Annie McCloud, whose death occurred at the State Hospital, Augusta, Wednesday night, were held Saturday afternoon from the Methodist chapel. Rev. A. E. Maxwell officiating. Mrs. McCloud was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Millett Bryant of Woodstock. She is survived by a sister, Mrs. Lora Herdick of West Paris, and three brothers, Elmer Bryant of West Paris, and James and Aubrey of Lewiston; and uncles, aunts, nieces and nephews.

D. Henry Fifield

D. Henry Fifield passed away Sunday morning, March 12, about 9 o'clock, death resulting from a paralytic shock which he suffered eight days previous to his death. Mr. Fifield was the son of John and Eunice (Daley) Fifield, and was born in Greenwood July 5, 1857. He married A. Estella Perry and of the union two sons were born, Clyde C., who has always been an invalid and lived at home, and Tracy P., who died in childhood.

Besides the widow and son, surviving are a brother, Judson Fifield of Mechanic Falls, a sister, Mrs. Lizzie Cummings of Dorchester, Mass.; seven nephews, Leon, Henry and Lester Cummings, Boston, Dr. Eugene Fifield, Harry Fifield, Boston, Carl and Earle Fifield, Mechanic Falls, and one niece, Mrs. Mamie Hawes, Mechanic Falls.

Mr. Fifield joined West Paris Lodge, I. O. O. F., five weeks after becoming twenty-one years of age, and was the oldest member in years of membership. He was also a charter member of Onward Rebekah Lodge. In church affiliations a Universalist, always giving his support and interest to the church, and in politics a Republican. Mr. and Mrs. Fifield began their married life in West Paris, and soon after built the house which they have occupied on Main Street.

In early life Mr. Fifield was em-

TWO-MINUTE SERMON

(By REV. GEORGE HENRY)

ONE BY ONE

My friend is dead. One by one they leave me. Gradually, as I grow older, the number awaiting me in the heavenly land increases. By and by there will be more of my loved ones on the other shore than on this side. After a while I too, shall want to go. The way will have lost its terror for me because so many whom I know have made the journey. There will be nothing to bind me to earth. Those whom I have loved and lost will beckon me and I shall go. How good God is to take them one by one and thus make heaven attractive while this world loses its allure. My friend has gone on before. "He can not return to me, but I can go to him." There is comfort here for those who believe in Jesus Christ and serve him. For others I know no word of comfort.

LOCKE MILLS

A social gathering was held at the Legion Hall Thursday night. Cards and jig-saw puzzles were enjoyed and refreshments were served.

Members of the Sunday School and their parents enjoyed a social at the Town Hall, Friday night. Miss Ruth Hay of Gould Academy was a week end guest of Barbara Bennett.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Walker visited with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ring, recently. Miss Elva Linnell of Gould Academy spent the week end with Helena Vetkusky.

Eben Emmons of Wayne has been visiting with relatives in town. Rhoda Goss is confined to her home with a badly sprained ankle. Mrs. Alice King and daughter Corrine spent Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Clara Brown.

Henry Morgan, Bryant Pond, visited at Jason Bennett's Sunday.

Albany—Waterford

Milo Hulita is boarding at Winfield McAllister's and cutting wood on the John McAllister lot at South Albany.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cox are visiting relatives at Welchville.

Annie Holt and son Richard are spending the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. N. Sawin. Charles Kimball is hauling birch to Harry Brown's mill for Walter Canwell.

A party spent the week end at Camp Majestic.

Winfield McAllister is hauling birch for Robert Hill to Brown's mill.

Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Lebrooke spent Sunday at Merritt Sawin's.

Donald and Ernest Brown have finished yarding pulp wood for Ivan Kimball.

Mrs. Elmer Hanley spent several days at Norway the past week. Carmilla Little, Jane Brown, and Muriel Sloan recently spent the week end at the Sloan farm in Albany.

played in the J. Wayland Kimball chair factory, and later worked for S. B. Locke in the grain mill. After

Mr. Locke's death he built a grain mill which he operated by gasoline power. Later he purchased the Locke mill, merging the two businesses. Twelve years later he retired on a competency.

In the passing of Mr. Fifield the town mourns a kind, influential and respected citizen.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the First Universalist Church, Rev. Eleanor B. Forbes officiating. Interment in the family lot in West Paris cemetery.

Marketer of Grain

Recognizing the unusual ability of Miss Lucy Hennen, who has marketed nearly a billion bushels of grain in seven years, directors of the Ohio Equity exchange have re-elected her their secretary and manager. At the helm of the co-operative marketing concern, Miss Hennen in seven years has handled $5,732,456 in business.

SOUTH WOODSTOCK

March 12—An ideal winter's day. Not too cold. Just right for a hike. Unclouded sunshine from early morn till late afternoon.

Miss Minnie Stevens spent Wednesday, March 8, with her friend, Mrs. Myrtle Treworgie, at Trap Corner.

Mrs. Angie Robbins and daughter Gertrude were in Norway March 10. Harland, Andrews and Stanley Andrews of I. W. Andrews & Sons, undertakers, were called to Augusta March 10 to care for the remains of Mrs. Annie McCloud, former resident of Curtis Hill in South Woodstock.

The report of the terrible earthquake in California given us via radio Friday evening was made even more terrible by the prominent paper's headlines of March 11, with their graphic description of one of the most awful catastrophes of modern U. S. history. Many at South Woodstock are anxiously waiting word from relatives at Long Beach, the center of the scene of destruction.

The Willing Workers accepted the invitation and met with Mrs. Cora Andrews at her home Wednesday afternoon, March 8. The day was very stormy but there were sixteen members present. No work being planned, the time was spent in telling fortunes and putting together jig-saw puzzles. Refreshments were served. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Angie Robbins the afternoon of March 22.

Those attending Pomona at West Paris March 7 were: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Andrews, Mrs. Florence Benson, Mrs. Velma Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Quimby Perham, Mrs. Elizabeth Russ, Lester Felt and Dennis Martin.

A most delightful birthday party was given for Mrs. Mary Felt Saturday evening, March 11, which was attended by 76 relatives and friends and neighbors. Mrs. Felt received most graciously and though Mary has always been one of the go-ahead working members of her family all cares and work were laid aside and instead of a demure matron we enjoyed seeing a school-girl of sweet sixteen, here and there making everyone have just the best time. Plays, music and games were enjoyed.

ORONO HARMONICA BAND

TO APPEAR F. & H. WEEK

The Orono Harmonica band, comprising 240 pupils, which received nation-wide recognition and attention through sound pictures in November will appear in the Farm and Home Week program on Monday evening, March 27. It has been announced by Dr. Leon S. Merrill, dean of the College of Agriculture, Bellefleur, supervisor of music in the Orono schools, has received inquiries from several states concerning her methods in training the youthful harmonica artists. These inquiries followed the showing of the sound news reel, "The Wind She Blows."

The band, composed of pupils from the first to the eighth grade, attired in their appropriate uniforms made an impressive demonstration at the last Maine Teachers Convention held in Bangor.

Among the more popular pieces played by this band are: Anchors Aweigh, Washington Post March, Maine Stein Song, and Carolina's Calling Me.

Starting in 1931 with less than 125 members, the band has now increased to 240. A study of two and three part music has begun with what musicians claim, "amazing results."

"Bobby" Brantleight, age 9, son of Professor and Mrs. Charles A. Brantleight, is the leader. He leads the band in a way that would be creditable to one years older.

THE LAST LEAF

Oliver Wendell Holmes

saw him once before,
as he passed by the door;
And again
the pavement stones resound as he totters o'er the ground With his cane.

They say that in his prime,
before the pruning knife of time Cut him down,
a better man was found by the crier on his round Through the town.

But now he walks the streets, and he looks at all he meets Sad and wan;
and he shakes his feeble head, that it seems as if he said,
"They are gone."

He mossy marbles rest on the lips that he has pressed In their bloom;
and the names he loved to hear have been carved for many a year On the tomb.

My grandmamma has said—
"Poor old lady! she is dead Long ago—
that he had a Roman nose, and his cheek was like a rose In the snow."

But now his nose is thin, he rests upon his chin
Like a staff;
and a crook is in his back, and a melancholy crack
In his laugh.

Know it is a sin
for me to sit and grin
At him here,
at the old three-cornered hat, and the breeches,—and all that,
Are so queer!

And if I should live to be as last left on the tree In the spring,
at them smile, as I do now, the old forsaken bough
Where I cling.

A PERSIAN LOVE SONG

Thomas Bailey Aldrich

at sad are they who know not love,

But, far from passion's tears and smiles,
sift down a moonless sea, beyond The silvery coils of fairy tales.

ed sadder they whose longing lips Kiss empty air, and never touch the warm mouth of those they love—
Waiting, waiting, suffering much.

ut clear as amber, fine as musk, is life to those who, pilgrim-wise, have hand in hand from dawn to dusk,
Each morning nearer Paradise.

ed not for them shall angels pray:
They stand in everlasting light;
say walk in Allah's smile by day,
And nestle in his heart by night.

Delicate Measuring Device

Correct to Ten-Thousandth

There are metal gauges so smooth and flat at the sides that when you place two together, they stick, says London Tit-Bits.

Workshop gauges, correct to one ten-thousandth of an inch, are checked at the National Physical laboratory, Teddington, by other gauges correct to a millionth. Some idea of how fine that is may be formed when we learn that a cigarette paper is one-thousandth of an inch thick and a spider's web about one-hundred-thousandth. On this instrument, a cigarette paper appears to be magnified to about thirty inches! A small gauge can be made appreciably longer by holding it for a few moments in the warm fingers.

The laboratory has devised a clock that is correct to the thousandth part of a second. It is a vibration clock regulated by a bar instead of a pendulum, and this bar vibrates 2,300 times a second.

The laboratory maintains the electric standards as well—the ampere, the ohm, and the volt. The ohm, for instance, is the resistance offered to an electric current by a column of mercury contained in a glass tube embedded in melting ice.
Electric current can be measured (it is weighed on a balance) to a thousandth part of 1 per cent.

Pawnbroker's Sign Traced

to the City of Florence

The three gilded balls which are often used as the indication of a pawnbroker's shop, may be traced to the City of Florence many hundreds of years ago. The business of lending money for profit is very old, and the establishment of such a business was an important part of the enterprises carried on by the powerful Medici family during the Middle Ages.

This family rose to wealth and influence by successful commercial ventures, and continued to combine the careers of merchants and bankers with the exercise of political power. It was in all probability the importance of the Medici in money matters that led the money-lenders to adopt the Medici coat-of-arms, of which were three gilt balls. Some authorities say that the three balls represent three pills, in a punning allusion to the profession of medicine by the Medici family.

Location of Sing Sing

Sing Sing is a famous New York state prison located at Ossining, a town on the Hudson river about thirty miles north of New York city.
The town itself was originally called Sing Sing, supposedly from the Sing Sing or Sintink tribe of Indians who once lived in that vicinity. In 1901 the name of the town was officially changed to Ossining, which is merely a different form of "Sing Sing," because the old name became objectionable to the inhabitants due to its association with the penitentiary. Both "Sing Sing" and "Ossining" are cor-ruptions of the Delaware Indian word "assinesink," literally meaning "at the small stone."

Bogey's Biography

A golfing gentleman still well remembered is Colonel Bogey. According to report, he was born in England and derived his name from the song popular at that time:
"Hush, hush, here comes the bogey man!" He was thus named by the secretary of the United States Golf club, who a little later suggested that as all members of that club must be serving or retired officers, it was proper that the new invisible member should have rank, and that as he never made mistakes he must be a senior officer—hence the title "Colonel."—Boston Transcript.

Apes Linked to Human Race

"Every one of the four anthropoid apes is linked in the mind of the scientist to some branch of the human race," explains an expert.
"The orang-utang is the Oriental, the gorilla the negroid type; the gibbon reminds us of the round-headed Alpine races of Europe, while the chimpanzee—most intelligent and companionable of the four—is definitely an animal symbol of the whole Aryan family." The chimpanzee is always eager to imitate humans.

ODD THINGS AND NEW—By Lane Bode

AN EMOTIONAL APPEAL

The following letter, published in the Portland Press Herald of Feb. 14, presents a very interesting view-point of the Prohibition discussion.

Editor of The Press Herald:

If the women of Maine knew what the boys and girls are doing in this matter of liquor, they would take a positive stand against our present laws. Dr. Little declares, in discussing alcohol and youth before the Association for the Reform of the Maine Prohibitory Law.

For the last few years the argument that prohibition is debauching youth has been emphasized and attested by the wets, not because it is true, but because as it is the greatest emotional appeal believed, it undoubtedly would be the greatest argument for repeal. The thick-tongued bellowings of the wets that prohibition is debauching youth makes my blood boil, and it is surprising that more of our youth have not made their resentment known.

Trying to break down the 18th Amendment by calling it detrimental to youth! Fighting for repeal because the youth of the land are becoming liquor soaked and refuse to obey the law! Of all the rotten propaganda used by the wets this "debauching of youth" argument is the rottenest. The older people expect a lot of youth today, but when we consider the examples being set for us we wonder why.
Young People, much is expected of us, perhaps too much, so it is up to us to stand up for ourselves, to refute such rotten slander. Remember, the wets have an axe to grind and they are using us for a grindstone.

Many girls drink today, Dr. Little "thinks," to maintain social position, and drinking among college and high school students is now considered fashionable. Does that represent the body of American youth today? No! It is the comparatively small group that such as Dr. Little picks out as representative of American youth for the purpose of furthering their cause. I will admit that I do not frequent places where drinking undoubtedly prevails, but I take part in many youth activities and I have not seen half a dozen young people drunk in a year, so why look only through the glazed eyes of the wets? Dr. Little used a group of young people as an illustration. I will use a different group to illustrate my point.
Five million Christian Endeavorers support the 18th Amendment.

Young People, is it up to us to fight for a Christian cause, to fight the charge that we are being debauched by prohibition, that the flask-carrying youth who wants to be fashionable (as Dr. Little says) is representative of us. Let us show that we have respect enough for our Country to support its Constitution.

Dr. Little "thinks" there is more liquor being drunk today than in 1921. Other wets say there is more beer flowing today than ever before.
Yet they advocate repeal of the 18th Amendment so our surplus wheat, planted up since the acceptance of prohibition, can be used for making beer. Backfiring on their own arguments, a common example of wet propaganda. Anything to make an appeal. Anyone who believes that we can smuggle enough liquor and make enough under cover to amount to more than the vast breweries turned out (as much as the people could soak up) is very guiltless or willing to believe anything detrimental to the 18th Amendment. The fight is on! Now is the time to fill the ranks!
George Sharpe.

WEST GREENWOOD

Mrs. Lillian Lapham called on her grandmother recently.
Mr. and Mrs. Paul Croteau are rejoicing over the birth of a son born March 8. He has been named Solon Menachon Croteau.

Quite a few from this vicinity attended town meeting.
Paul Croteau is cutting pulp for Charles Conner in Albany.

SOUTH ALBANY

Mrs. Ernest Grover and children are spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Allen.

Miss June Brown is enjoying a vacation of three weeks from her school at North Waterford.

Friends and neighbors were very glad to welcome Mr. and Mrs. M.
Sawin back to their home in this place.

E. K. Shedd has been hauling wood and ice for Roy G. Wardwell.
Clyde Allen is spending some time with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Allen.

C. M. Fullerton spent the week end at his home here.

Miss Betty Hill has been visiting Miss Hulda Stearns for a few days.

GOINGS ON IN MAINE

By Leon G. Cates

The proposal to have a Statewide referendum on the question of repeal of the Maine Prohibition Law, was voted down this week by the Legislature. The vote was very much along party lines; with the Republicans voting not to submit the question to the people, and the Democrats voting to submit it.
Thus dies, for the present at least, the attempt of the Democratic party to have a state-wide vote as to whether or not Maine should repeal its 70 year old Prohibition law.

Governor Brann returned from Washington on Tuesday; and has been busy night and day on account of the banking situation, in addition to his other duties. In the insurance department, Wilbur D.
Spencer, State Insurance Commissioner, stated the life insurance in Maine last year held up to the same ratio of shrinkage as throughout the United States. The value of life insurance policies written in Maine in 1932 was $77-963,260.74. And total claims were paid to Maine policy holders amounting to $6,008,918.67.

The following bills have been reported out by the committee as "ought not to pass"—the bill for repealing the $25.00 bounty on bears and the bill to appropriate $5,000.00 to be used by the Commissioner of Inland Fisheries and Game for the extermination of sheep killing bears—the bill to place a bounty of 10c a head on crows—a bill to forbid school committees to employ relatives as teachers—a bill that would prevent guest motor vehicle riders from having cause for action for damages in case of accident—a bill that would enable persons who are unable to go to the polls to vote because of sickness, lameness or physical infirmity, to vote by absentee vote—a bill that would prohibit the transportation of rabbits out of the State—a bill that would require females to pay a poll tax—a bill that would permit the voters of Bangor to vote on abandoning their present council-manager form of government—the bill to appropriate $1,100.00 to Charles E. Tefft of Willimantic for work on the General Howard statue.

The following bills have been reported out by the committee as "ought to pass"—a bill authorizing continuation for four years of rules and regulations of the Commissioner of Inland Fisheries and Game—a bill to prohibit the issue of a resident hunter's license to any person other than a bona fide resident of the town or city in which the license is issued, under penalty of $10.00—a bill giving County Commissioners authority to assess taxes in unincorporated places for improvement and maintenance of roads—a bill reducing from $20.00 to $10.00 the bounty on bobcats, leopards, and Canada lynx.

The bill, sponsored by the lobster fishermen of Cumberland and York counties, to lower the legal length of lobsters from 10½ to 9 inches was voted down in the house. The Kitchen-Friend bill, which sets up the State's highway program for the next two years; and which requires that the highway department operate on its own income from gasoline tax, automobile registration fees, etc. and receive no direct appropriation from the State; was passed by both the House and Senate without debate. The bill to allow the use of automobiles in the town of Islesboro has been passed.

A great deal of interest was manifest at the hearing before the Taxation Committee on the bill calling for a general Sales Tax.
Senator Blaisdell, of Hancock County, sponsor of the bill, was the principal speaker in its favor.
Blaisdell said, "Since everybody

Considerable talent from Oxford County will contribute to the 1933 Farm and Home Week program to be held at Orono, March 27-30. The program, just off the press, includes five speakers from Oxford County.
Elson Morse, a prominent apple grower of Waterford, will discuss methods he uses to lower production costs. Wilson H. Conant, a ran apple grower of Buckfield, will give his observations on the marketing situation.
Leslie R. McIntire, a Holstein owner of East Waterford, will speak on the subject, "Marketing the Grown Feed Crops." Mrs. Grace Howard, state chairman, Women's Division National Agricultural Federation, of Winfield, will speak on "Rural Recreation" in the session professional workers during fourth annual Child Development Institute.

Ma Brewster, home demonstration agent for Oxford County, will constrate how to plan an adequate diet at minimum cost. Miss Wester will also discuss the subject, "Economic Food Facts." Justin P. Stearns, South Paris, preside over the annual meeting of the Maine Farm Bureau Federation to be held March 28.

March is surely a winter month. The principal business in this vicinity is trying with not very good success to keep the roads open.

Ray Hanson has gone to his home in Newry. Mrs. Carrie Swan of Norway is visiting her brother, Elton Dunham, for a few days.

The Sewing Circle met with Mrs. Stella Ring last Thursday. This week's meeting is to be with Mrs. Mattie Ring.

School closes March 17 for one week vacation.

Wilmer Bryant has a new horse purchased at the Andrews Brothers, Norway.

The Crusaders held their regular meeting at Colby Ring's Saturday evening.

Wilmer Bryant is hauling wood for Harry Day and Colby Ring this week.

UPTON

A. W. Judkins, who has been very ill with liver trouble and broken ribs, is much better and able to be out around a little.

W. L. Brown has finished his work for Brown Company up the lake and has returned home.

We had the worst snow storm and wind blow of the season last week, causing the roads to be drifted so badly that it kept the Selectmen busy getting crews to shovel so the tractor could get through. A crew of about twelve men worked all day Saturday in Grafton and about fifteen worked all day Sunday on Mill Street.

Madeline Barnett gave her brother, Gordon, a surprise party on his birthday, March 13. The seventh and eighth grades at school were invited and nearly all of them attended.

MASON

Myron Morrill is harvesting his ice from Little Pond. Lee Mills and Ray Barker of Albany are helping him.

Paul Grover visited his aunt, Mrs. Alice Holman, Bethel, a few days the first of the week.

Miss Norma Rolfe of Albany called on Mrs. Grace Morrill Sunday afternoon.

Miss Mary Martin spent the week end at her home in Greenwood.

Walter and Verna Grover spent the week end at home.

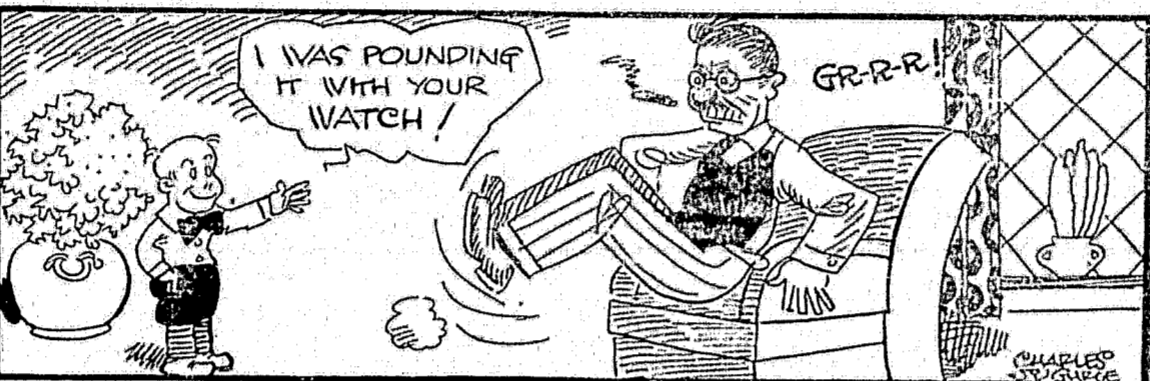

Misses Elizabeth and Madlyn MacKenzie and Verna Grover attended a meeting of the Pleasant Valley 4-H Club at West Bethel Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Myron Morrill called on Mrs. Lloyd Luxton, Bethel, one day recently.

MANY DOLLARS SAVED BY HOME-MADE SOAP

When we buy a cake of soap we hardly give it a thought. We even waste some of it by letting it stay in the water, but when the yearly cost is figured—if it is—it frequently amounts to a much greater sum than is realized.

A practical way for the farm homemaker to stretch her cleaning dollar is to make her own laundry soap, provided she has surplus fat on hand as many farm homes have. Edna M. Cobb, home management specialist for the Extension Service describes the so-called "cold-process" method as follows:

"Empty the contents of a small can containing approximately 5 1/2 ounces of household lye (which should be at least 94% caustic soda) into an iron kettle, add 1 1/2 pints of water, stir with an iron or wooden rod until all of it is dissolved and allow the solution to cool to lukewarm."

"In another iron kettle melt 2 1/2 pounds of clear grease consisting largely of tallow. After this has cooled, until just warm to the hand, pour the solution of lye slowly into the melted grease; stir for 10 to 15 minutes until it is evenly mixed, and then pour into a mold lined with waxed paper. Cover and leave it in a warm place for a day or two, after which the soap can be cut into bars with a thin twine or fine wire."

"The grease used must be clean and free from salt. Both the grease and the lye must be allowed to cool until it is just warm to the hand. Care must be taken to stir the lye into the grease, not the grease into the lye. If the soap is streaky with greasy layers, showing that it is not thoroughly combined with the lye, put it back in the kettle with a pint of water and heat until the soap is melted and clear."

"Because of the glycerine liberated from the grease and the large quantity of water present, the soap made in this way will not be very hard. As it dries out, however, it will harden to some extent."

GROVER HILL

Another north-east snow storm is on this Tuesday morning.

Edward Lapham is buying and hauling birch to market which comes from M. F. Tyler's land. Mr. Tyler has men cutting it at the present time.

NAZARETH

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Late Dean of Men,
University of Illinois.

Nazareth, you will recall, had a very bad reputation. If anyone two thousand years ago in a moment of thoughtlessness admitted that he voted in Nazareth, he was given the cold glassy stare. Anyone coming from that village had to bring pretty strong recommendations if he expected to break into respectable society. The town was known to be full of thugs and bootleggers and hold-up men. The women of Nazareth were not thought to be all they should be. Society was at low ebb. And yet there was good in Nazareth, in spite of its reputation for there is where the Savior of the world came from.

If there is one thing more than another that has impressed upon me it is that people are seldom as bad as they are pictured—that there is more good than evil in the world—much more.

I had heard a good deal about Mack before I met him. He was certainly the hard-boiled citizen. I was given to understand. He had a nasty tongue in his cheek, it was said; he had committed all sorts of irregularities. He might with propriety have been one of the leading citizens of Nazareth, had I given credence to half that was alleged about him. In reality his loud talk was a barrage to conceal his self-consciousness and embarrassment.

Brown was pledged to an organization soon after he entered college and shortly afterward he came to me to say that he was quite dissatisfied with his choice. He didn't like some of the fellows and he was minded to break his pledge. "Don't do it," I suggested. "For a month at least, and during that time try to forget the things which have annoyed you and to find in these young fellows the fine qualities which I am sure they possess. I haven't any doubt but that the things which irritate you and make you dissatisfied are superficial and will disappear when you know the men better."

It was quite so. At the end of the month the men whom he had liked the least were his closest friends because he had come to value them for the sterling qualities which they really possessed.

Had we lived in Nazareth, I am sure we should have found many very admirable people.

Gould Academy Notes

Mr. Myers and Stuart Lane attended the basketball tournament held at the University of Maine last Friday and Saturday.

Trafton Bartlett, Norris Brown, Douglass Daniels, Arthur Hill, John Thorpe, and Mr. Fossett attended the Bowdoin Interscholastic Track Meet at Brunswick last Saturday. The Gould relay team placed second in a team race among the academy teams of Gould, Fryeburg, and Lincoln.

Joe Stevens, Gould '31, a member of the University of Maine track team, topped third place in the high jump at the recent Bates-Maine dual meet.

Don Heald, Gould '31, represented M. C. I. in the shot put at the Bowdoin Interscholastics.

Mr. Anderson, Stanley Allen, Clayton Glover, Paul Brown, and Mr. Bailey witnessed the final games in the Bates basketball tournament last week end.

John Adams, Gould '28, is teaching in Mattanawcook Academy, Lincoln, Maine. Mr. Adams graduated from the University of Maine last June.

Declamations were given last week by Beatrice Merrill, Frances Adams, Marguerite Hall, Martha Brown, Norris Brown, Edwin Brown, Margaret Dalzell, Esther Burris, Georgia Judkins, Dorothea Hutchinson, Willard Wight and Frederick McMillan.

The juniors won the boys' interclass basketball championship with four wins and two losses; the seniors and freshmen tied for second place with three wins and three losses each, while the sophomores trailed with two wins and four losses. For a time it seemed that the freshmen were due to carry off the honors, but two closely contested games, lost only in overtime periods proved their undoing. Outstanding players throughout the season have been: Juniors—Eldredge Berry and Harlan Hutchins; freshmen—Robert Browne and Paul Daniels; seniors—Trafton Bartlett and Clayton Glover; sophomores—Douglass Daniels and Willard Wight. High scoring honors for a single game go to Clifton Jackson, senior forward, who popped in 9 baskets and a free throw for a total of 19 points against the freshmen.

Coach Anderson's charges wound up a successful season Monday night when they completed a 19 game scheduled with a win over Gorham, N. H. high school. This game brought their wins for the season to 14 as against only five losses. The complete list of games follows:

Gould 29—Gorham, N. H., 14.
Gould 45—Colebrook Academy 23.
Gould 41—Fryeburg Academy J. V. 12.
Gould 25—Mexico High, 26.
Gould 36—Wilton Academy, 19.
Gould 33—Alumet 24.
Gould 22—Rumford, 45.
Gould 24—Norway, 28.
Gould 37—South Paris, 34.
Gould 43—Columbia, 27.
Gould 47—South Paris, 34.
Gould 27—Norway, 35.
Gould 32—Rumford, 48.
Gould 30—Wilton, 23.
Gould 38—Mexico, 32.
Gould 35—Gorham, 29.
Gould 29—Franklin, 14.
Gould 34—South Paris, 29.
Gould 25—Norway, 24.
Gould amassed a season's total of 636 points as against 630 for their opponents.

ENGAGEMENT OF NORTH WOODSTOCK COUPLE ANNOUNCED LAST WEEK

A party was enjoyed at the home of Herman Cole on Wednesday evening, March the eighth. Four tables of 63 and jigs saw puzzles were enjoyed by all.

The hostess, Mrs. Herman Cole, was assisted by Mrs. George Abbott in serving a lunch of ice cream, crackers, fancy cookies, cake and peanuts. At that time favors were given announcing the engagement of Miss Alice M. Knights and Otis D. Dudley.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Dana Dudley, Otis Dudley, Mr. and Mrs. Columbus Kimball, Hazel Cole and daughter Joyce, Clarence Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Cole, Everett Cole, Mrs. Frank Sweetser, Mr. and Mrs. C. James Knights, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Tyler, Mr. and Mrs. George Abbott, Miss Irene Ames, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Cole, son Richard, and daughters Alice and Evelyn Knights.

Miss Knights is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Cole and a graduate of Woodstock High School in the class of 1932.

Mr. Dudley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dana O. Dudley and a graduate of Woodstock High school in the class of 1928. Also he is a graduate of the University of Maine.

Both are members and officers of Franklin Grange. No date has yet been set for the wedding.

Hugh W. Hastings of Fryeburg, a prominent attorney, attracted a lot of attention last Friday when he sawed four cords of four foot wood into stove lengths between 5 a. m. and 6 p. m., with two hours out for meals. Wood sawing has been a hobby with Mr. Hastings for several years, and this feat was the result of an offer by a friend of $5.00 if he could complete the stunt.

Fight Until Legs Are Gone

The stick insects, relatives of the mantis, frequently fight among themselves until both contestants are reduced to mere bodies without any legs. This is not necessarily fatal, however, for unless the insects are fully matured, having gone through their final molting, they will be able to grow new limbs to replace the ones that have been lost.

Octavus Roy Cohen

This talented southern author and lawyer has thrilled and entertained millions of American readers. His stories are in demand in every magazine in America.

Mr. Cohen made his first success with his southern negro stories. They met with instant popularity, and built circulation for the magazine that carried them. But he is a versatile writer and has created many characters that are known to American readers. Among these is Jim Hanvey, detective extraordinary, and it is Jim Hanvey around which is woven the action and the humor of "The May Day Mystery," one of the most popular of Mr. Cohen's stories.

Mr. Cohen is a native of the South of which he writes. He was born at Charleston, South Carolina, June 26, 1891, and was educated at the Porter Military academy of that city, and at the Birmingham-Southern college at Birmingham, Ala. His first work was as a civil engineer. He quit that to engage in newspaper work and was employed in the editorial departments of such papers as the Birmingham Ledger, the Charleston News and Courier, the Bayonne (N. J.) Times and Newark (N. J.) Morning Star. He was admitted to the bar in South Carolina in 1913 and practiced for two years before devoting himself entirely to writing. During the war he served as a lieutenant in the navy.

His story, "The May Day Mystery," will run serially in these columns, and every reader will enjoy it.

FAIR PLAY

A few weeks ago we read an article in the Finger Points column where the author was accusing the farmers of Bethel of disturbing the housewives in the village by calling frequently to sell his farm products.

For several weeks now the farmers in a certain part of the town have been disturbed at various hours of the day and night by a person or persons from the village who seem to delight to disturb the country side peace. Usually this happens in the night when farmers and their good wives get their much needed rest. Sometimes they have been called out in their night robes and from their beds, thus endangering their health, in order for someone to borrow a shovel with which to clear an Essex car from the 'lightly drifted snow.

Now we would like to ask our readers if it isn't worse by far to be frequently broken of your rest in the middle of the night by a knock at the door, a car roaring in the snow for quite a length of time, and sometimes the creaking of your valued fence than to be called to the kitchen door in the middle of the day to buy good farm products which are a money saver and health preserver sold by a good natured, hard working farmer who has only that means of gaining livelihood.

We feel that the writer of Finger Points should exercise the same caution about disturbing rural housewives as he would have others use about disturbing village ladies.

A READER

At the Winslow town meeting Tuesday it was voted to establish community owned cottages for the needy families of the town. It is expected thereby to save hundreds of dollars annually if present conditions continue.

Dumas ...ed Writers

Alexandre Dumas, the celebrated French writer, was perhaps the forerunner of those modern comic strip artists who have a staff of the detail work of their strips. Dumas, after the great success of his "Monte Cristo" and "Three Musketeers," launched on a program of works so extensive that no one man could hope to carry it out. He hired a number of young writers to do the writing and then he went over the work, changed it as he saw fit and had it published in his name. Despite the severe criticism which followed this action upon his part, he continued to carry out the practice. While he made a large income, he lost everything through extravagance and venturing into wild schemes. He died penniless in 1870.—Washington Star.
